Noah waltzes with Matilda

Pets | Lisa Edgerton

LITTLE Matilda loves her squishy-faced best friend.

But sadly, her 18-month-old shar pei, Noah, has not always received so much affection.

Noah, like many shar peis, was dumped as a puppy.

Luckily for the cuddly canine he was saved by the Shar Pei Rescue Service and adopted by Matilda's grandmother, Brighton East resident Amanda Booth. "They are unbelievably cute together," she said.

"Even though he is as nutty as a fruitcake, Noah just adores her and the entire family loves him to bits."

Shar peis, with their distinctive faces and unique personalities, often become an impulse buy for families, particularly around Christmas.

"This can lead to them being dumped once people realise how high-maintenance they are," Mrs Booth said.

As part of an adoption drive, Shar Pei Rescue and Iams Home for the Holidays campaign has a fundraising day at Pet Foods Direct, unit 6/430 Warrigal Rd, Moorabbin, on Sunday, October 18, at 11am, with homeless dogs to meet, a sausage sizzle, an information session and giveaways.
